

REGGIANI MACCCHINE states his presence in UK and North America markets

Reggiani Macchine, leader in the digital textile arena together with I-Sub Limited and NextWave Media Solutions, the top service providers in the UK and North America(including CAFTA) respectively , team up to provide the market with the long awaited range of industrial printing machines for both conventional textiles, fashion and sports team wear.

Reggiani Group is proud to appoint I-Sub Limited and NextWave Media Solutions as its partners offering full service and support for the UK and Eire and North America and CAFTA areas. Both I-Sub Limited and NextWave Media Solutions have been leaders in this market for many years and offer the highest quality product backed up by their support team.

Reggiani Macchine sets the benchmark in today's digital technology, with its broad range of industrial digital print solutions. The Group is now a true leader in this expanding sector.

I-Sub Limited and Nextwave Media Solutions confirm that their home markets are looking for industrial print solutions to provide the ever increasing demand for UK and North America manufacturing. The agreement between Reggiani Group and its new partners is now effective and will guarantee complete solutions to these two growing markets.

Reggiani Macchine promotes global solutions, integrated in the production process. The experience, the human resources and technological innovations that the Group may propose to the market today make Reggiani Group the new frontier for development, growth and approach to the market of worldwide textile machinery sector and digital printing sector.